How did you learn about this group?

We will send you a confirmation letter shortly, along with a copy of A Parent's Guide to Gifted Children. This will allow you to read some of the book even before the first group meeting. We encourage the two adults who are most central in the child's life to both attend the group meetings. It helps to have someone with whom you can discuss the ideas. In this way, you are more likely to get the most benefit from the group meetings. If you have any questions, please call Stacie Valery at 496-9409 or Vidisha Patel at 539-1727. We look forward to seeing you at the group meetings.

Please make your check payable to Peace of Heart LLC and send it to 3520 Bayou Louise Lane, Sarasota, FL 34242, ATTN SMPG.

Enclosed is $200.00, which covers the cost for two people (one family) to attend the group meetings and the book A Parent's Guide to Gifted Children.

Disclaimer: SENG Model Parent Group (SMPG) Facilitators are sensitive, caring persons who nurture, support and guide parents as they struggle to find their own answers regarding parenting and educating their complex children through guided discussion groups. Although I am a therapist, SENG does not endorse SMPG facilitators as therapeutic clinicians. I will not be acting in my capacity as a therapist.

Many successful SENG Model Parent Groups are led by parents just like you, and many parents have found the SENG Model Parent Groups to be extremely helpful and supportive. Please note that the SENG Model Parent Groups are not therapy groups, nor are they advocacy groups. They are guided discussion groups where parents share information about techniques and approaches to parenting gifted children. If you, as a parent, want to participate in a SENG Model Parent Group, you will probably want to ask about the training and background of the facilitator. For example, if you want only to participate in a SENG Model Parent Group that is led by a licensed psychologist, it's your responsibility to refrain from participating in groups with facilitators who are not licensed psychologists. If you only want to participate in a SENG Model Parent Group if the facilitator has had a background check, it's your responsibility to refrain from participating in groups led by facilitators who have not had background checks.

The bottom line is that SENG does not control, monitor or guarantee the services or qualifications of SMPG facilitators or facilitator trainers posted on the SMPG website pages, and SENG does not endorse any views expressed or products or services offered by SENG facilitators or facilitator trainers. In our current societal climate, we thus feel obligated to state that in no event shall SENG be responsible or liable, directly or indirectly, for any damage or loss caused or alleged to be caused by or in connection with the use of or reliance on any such content, goods, or services available on or through any such site or resource.
